What are the current trends in designing and architecture?

Rather than speaking about the current abilities, taste and genre of present day designers, we feel the current trend is actually the reformed awareness about Architecture & Architects. This has tremendously changed the course and structure of today's infrastructure development. Having said that, today we are made aware of latest technologies as well as materials and their applications in a much easier and readily approachable way. Thus the current trend is that of a more informed stature on a national as well as global platform.

Describe about your dream project?

At Studio AVT there are always projects which are close to heart & emerge as dream projects. Ultimately though, our aim is to continuously improve the work we produce in our office and to offer our team a bright future. On a lighter note, we as designers can always be seen with an urge or rather fantasy to design something of a by-gone or a future era. Howsoever impractical it may seem in today's context but if given a chance we would love to design a massive Emperor's Fort or a habitable Colony in Outer-Space.

What are the expansion plans and the growth area of the organization?

"2013", the 4th year into the journey of Studio AVT has been very rewarding with our work being appreciated & published in many leading national & international magazines as well as e-magazines. The honor of getting the award at "Era Fame Awards, 2013" is a dream come true for us. With such incredible stepping stone to our credit, we aim to venture into our growth & expansions at multiple levels. With our current portfolio of work developing in states of Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Haryana & Maharashtra; our plan is to reach out to the far ends of the country and make our presence felt on a national platform. Since the beginning of this year we have also initiated a "Design & Build program" as an add-on to our scope of work in collaboration with Mehta Enterprises. We are hoping for a consistency of recognitions in the years to come.
